The Law Should Be Obeyed A question that I would like to have answered is: Why have an Ohio state boiler law at all when the state itself keeps on breaking it? The law says that a water-tube boiler fired by hand shall have doors provided with substantial latching devices to prevent them from being blown open by pressure on the furnace side. No latches will be found on the firedoors here, although ordered put on by the inspector several times. The law also says, When shutoff valves are placed on the pipes connecting a water column to a boiler, these valves shall be of the straight-way, outside screw-and-yoke type, and shall be locked or sealed open. My No. 1 boiler has a globe valve on the water connection to the water column and one on...
