COLERIDGE Postmark May 27, 1796. Dear C: Make yourself perfectly easy about May. I paid his bill, when I sent your clothes. I was flush of money, and am so still to all the purposes of a single life; so give yourself no further concern about it. The money would be superfluous to me, if I had it. With regard to Allen, --the woman he has married has some money, I have heard about 200 a year, enough for the maintenance of herself and children, one of whom is a girl nine years old! so Allen has dipt betimes into the cares of a family. I very seldom see him, and do not know whether he has given up the Westminster hospital. When Southey becomes as modest as his predecessor Milton, and publishes his Epics in duodecimo, I...
